						crashed near Kostomlaty pod Milesovkou on a flight from Dresden to Prague with three crew on board and two pax, when hit a hill in fog, crashed and burned; on board was reportedly "propaganda cargo", probably leaflets to be thrown from helicopter for the people in Czechoslovakia, the 3 crew survived but two pax (journalists) were killed; when the Soviets came to the crash site, everybody was sent away and the cause of the crash was reported by them that "the helicopter was shot down from the ground by Czechoslovak counter-revolutionaries"; the Czechoslovak investigators found an engine failure as a main cause but this was disclaimed by the Soviet government
